Who is I Am A Queen

I Am A Queen is a youth-focused mentoring nonprofit dedicated to ensuring that young women can reach their goals for higher education and leadership. Young women are selected annual to commit to the program and must demonstrate a high need and a high level of motivation to achieve what no one in their family has accomplished.

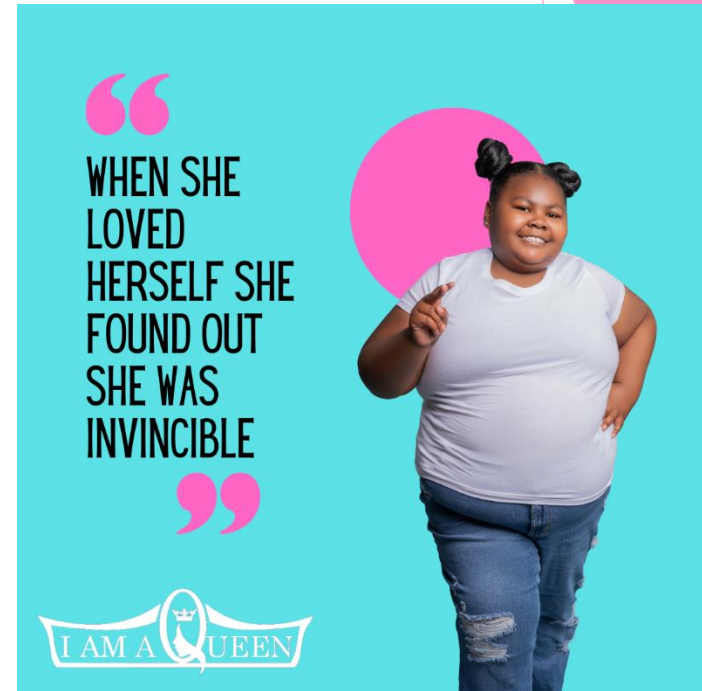

The program is intentional about building a girl's self-esteem, helping them to overcome obstacles and preparing them for college and a career.

I Am A Queen's Focus Areas:

Queens Empower, Queens Educate and Queens Engage

MISSION STATEMENT

To empower girls with a crown of confidence by providing transformational mentoring programs that develop them into future leaders and community service pioneers.

Queen Arise Leadership Program

The purpose of the Queen Arise Leadership Program is to inspire young women to reach their fullest potential, resulting in confident, successful girls who are servant leaders to society. The program is a year-round initiative dedicated to the growth and development of underserved and at-risk girls, ages 10-18. Each girl participates in self-esteem and leadership training workshops that target key areas in their adolescents such as money management, self-worth, healthy relationships, health and fitness, and etiquette.

The program is designed to help girls to discover their self-worth, their voice and to develop a passion to serve their communities. to serve their communities.

Since 2011, our mentoring program has served 1,635 girls in Greensboro, N.C.

Overview of I Am A Queen's Ultimate Christmas Adoption Program

The Ultimate Christmas Adoption program is a 10-week program that provides assistance to families in the Piedmont-Triad facing economic hardship during the holiday season. The program requires families to sign up to receive help, there is a screening and selection process of candidates, a registration period and educational seminar on financial awareness and how to overcome personal obstacles.

The program utilizes an angel tree selection process for donors and corporations to select children's wish lists they would like to adopt. In addition, the program partners with local grocery stores to provide each family with a holiday food box that contains a frozen turkey and nonperishable sides.

During the second week of December, I Am A Queen partners with The DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel in Greensboro to provide space for donors to drop off their gifts and for families to pick up.

Since 2000, I Am A Queen has sponsored 687 families for Christmas and 98 senior citizens.
